

New Jersey player wins Best Buy Home Run Derby at World Series

Anthony Yaccarine of the USA East regional champions from New Jersey won the annual Best Buy Home Run Derby on Saturday during the Junior League World Series in Heritage Park. Yaccarine hit home runs on four out of the five swings that each batter takes. Finishing second was Drew Ellis of Central champion Indiana. He broke a tie with third-place Cesar Torres of West champ California.

2010 Best Buy Home Run Derby champion Anthony Yaccarine of New Jersey.

Best Buy Home Run Derby runner-up Drew Ellis (left) of Indiana, champion Anthony Yaccarine of New Jersey and third-place finisher Cesar Torres of California. The top three received trophies and DVD players, movies and other prizes from Best Buy.

Volunteers from Best Buy congratulate the top three finishers in the Best Buy Home Run Derby.